Active Surveillance Or Radiation?

Posted April 17, 2014

Radiation is the gift that keeps on giving. He lists the expected side effects of radiation, how they differ from surgery, and how they may become secondary cancers. He praises Multi-parameter MRI for identifying disease easily missed by biopsy, and a key player for monitoring Active surveillance. He again on this video says the vast majority of small Gleason 6s do no progress to high risk disease. His final strongly-stated advice: There is NO role for small Gleason 6s.
